Program: Iconic Los Angeles Reyes Coca Cola Building Revitalization

Speaker: Eric James
Gensler - Senior Associate

Eric James of Gensler will present the modernization plan for the iconic 1939 Coca-Cola bottling plant in Los Angeles, a celebrated Streamline Moderne landmark. Gensler has been commissioned to lead this revitalization. The revitalization includes a full restoration of the building's metal facade, with crews removing non-historic additions and adding new porthole windows and doors to bring in natural light and improve accessibility. Inside, the offices and production spaces will be modernized to support greater efficiency and flexibility, preparing the site for long-term use. Sustainable design measures are set to enhance environmental performance and occupant well-being throughout.

Eric James, a registered architect, is the Southwest Regional Leader for the Gensler's Mission Critical Practice Area.
